I'm a tutor/teacher and actor, fight director and AV / Theatre technician. From an early age I've had a passion for teaching and began with work experience and youth theatre tutoring when I was 16. It was around then I also found a love for the arts and began training as an actor - later followed by becoming qualified in stage combat and other varying physical skill sets. I have since taught at several other theatres and schools - from Primary to University - alongside work as an academic tutor with many tutor agencies.
